LITTLETON, Colo., Sept. 09, 2025 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Breckenridge Brewery, a craft brewery owned by Tilray Brands, Inc. company (NASDAQ: TLRV and TSX: TLRV), is proud to announce it has received the Silver Certification from the Colorado Green Business Network (CGBN), recognizing the brewery's ongoing commitment to sustainability and environmental stewardship across its operations.

The certification, officially awarded on July 29, 2025, is part of a points-based assessment program that evaluates businesses on their measurable progress in reducing environmental impact. Breckenridge Brewery's Silver Certification reflects achievements in greenhouse gas emissions reduction, energy and water efficiency, waste minimization, sustainable policy implementation, employee training, and community outreach.

"This recognition is a testament to the hard work and dedication of our entire team," said Hannah Kight, Senior Environmental and Safety Manager at Breckenridge Brewery. "Sustainability is woven into everything we do, from how we brew our beer to how we engage with our community and we're proud to be part of a network that celebrates and encourages continuous improvement."

Breckenridge Brewery's submission highlighted both strategic policy decisions and completed efficiency upgrades that have contributed to meaningful environmental gains. Notable initiatives include:

- Partnering with South Platte Renew to brew a beer using recycled water from their pilot direct potable reuse system.
- Maintaining solar panels that currently supply 20% of the brewery's electricity demand.
- Achieving 99% waste diversion, with spent grains sent to local Colorado farmers for agricultural use.
- Collaborating with Colorado State University's Impact MBA program to host an EPA-funded MBA fellow focused on pollution prevention.

Breckenridge Brewery continues to invest in sustainable practices and looks forward to building on this momentum in pursuit of even higher certification levels in the future.
