

BrewDog and Tilray Beer Are Ready to Pour the World's Biggest Bar Tab — £1 Million of Free Pints

Jun 24, 2026

Jersey on. Crew ready. If England, Scotland or the U.S. reaches the final, fans can head straight to participating BrewDog pubs<sup>1</sup> and Tilray-owned brewpubs<sup>2</sup> across the U.S. to claim up to two free pints before the £1 million bar tab runs out.

NEW YORK and ELLON, United Kingdom, June 24, 2026 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Scottish brewer BrewDog, owned by Tilray Brands, Inc. (NASDAQ: TLRY; TSX: TLRY), is proving to be a fan-favourite destination for sports watch parties with big screens, cold pints and match-day energy on tap. BrewDog bars are bringing fans together for a summer of live sport watch parties and are announcing plans to celebrate a major global football milestone with what could be the world's biggest bar tab — £1 million in free pints — if England, Scotland or the United States reaches the final of the world's biggest football tournament. This promotion is not affiliated with, sponsored by, endorsed by, or in any way officially connected with any international football governing body, team, federation, league or tournament.

Irwin Simon, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer, Tilray Brands, said, "Sport has an extraordinary ability to unite people across communities, cultures and nations through moments of pride and shared celebration — and great bars have always been places where fans come together to enjoy the match, share great conversations and raise a beer or two. This promotion reflects the strength of Tilray Brands' beverage platform and our commitment to creating meaningful experiences that positively impact the communities where we operate. If England, Scotland or the United States reaches the final on football's biggest world stage, we are ready to help fans celebrate together across our participating pubs and brewpubs and continue building brands and occasions that bring people together over sport, great bars and great beer."

The celebration kicks in if any one of the eligible national teams — England, Scotland or the United States — reaches the final of the world's biggest football tournament. Once activated, BrewDog will open a £1 million bar tab from 20 July, the day after the final match. Fans wearing an eligible team jersey can claim up to two free pints per person, on a first-come, first-served basis, while pints last at participating Tilray-owned BrewDog pubs, excluding franchised BrewDog bars, and at participating Tilray-owned brewpubs, including SweetWater Brewing, 10 Barrel Brewing, Blue Point Brewery, Breckenridge Brewery, Montauk Brewing, and Terrapin. Fans should get their jerseys ready now, rally their crew and be ready to move fast if one of the eligible teams reaches the final.

From BrewDog pubs to Tilray's broader craft beverage venues, the bar tab is designed for the kind of celebration sports fans live for — packed pubs, team colours, cold pints and one massive reason to cheer — with BrewDog bars continuing to build their role as go-to destinations to watch sporting events all summer long.

Beyond football, participating BrewDog bars will be activating watch parties and big-screen moments around major sporting occasions throughout the summer, including auto-racing in July and August, major golf tournaments in July, the return of top flight football in August, and world-class tennis tournaments, with the biggest matches shown across participating venues.
